Terms of Service

Last updated: October 31, 2026

These are the terms that apply when you work with Budapest Labs. We've kept them straightforward. No surprises.

What we do

We design, build, and operate custom software, AI integrations (for example connecting your systems to Claude), automations, websites, and webshops. We also run AI training and assessments. The exact scope of each project is set out in a written offer or contract before work begins.

How payment works

We don't publish prices on our website. Every project is quoted individually. The scope, price, payment schedule, and any monthly operation fee are fixed in a written offer or contract before work begins, and the contract terms apply. Larger projects are split into phases, each with its own fixed price. Ongoing operation and maintenance are billed monthly, as agreed in the contract. We accept bank transfer, Revolut, and cash. You will receive a proper invoice for every payment, issued in accordance with Hungarian law.

Feedback and changes

Each phase includes the feedback rounds set out in your offer. If you'd like something outside the agreed scope, we tell you the cost before we do it. No surprises.

Timelines

Timelines are agreed for each project and phase. They are estimates based on the agreed scope, and they depend on how quickly we receive the access, content, and feedback we need from you. Delays on your side don't count against our timeline.

What we need from you

We need access to the systems we work with, the content and information the project needs, and timely feedback. Please make sure you have the right to share everything you provide. Where we process personal data on your behalf, we sign a separate data processing agreement.

Who owns what

Once paid, what we build for you is yours: the code, the documentation, and all access. We may reuse general-purpose tools and code that aren't specific to your project. We'd love to mention your project in our references, but only with your permission.

Third-party services

Projects may rely on third-party services such as Claude, hosting, invoicing, or webshop platforms. We help set them up, but they are independent services with their own terms and fees, usually on your own account.

Cancellation

You can stop a project between phases and pay only for the phases already completed. Monthly operation can be cancelled as set out in your contract, and we help you hand everything over. On our side, if we can't reach you for over 30 days, we may pause or close the project.

Warranty

If something we built doesn't work as agreed, we fix it free of charge within the warranty period set in your contract. While we operate a system for a monthly fee, fixes are always included.

Not covered: new features, changes in scope, or issues caused by changes made by you or a third party. Third-party services (AI providers, hosting, invoicing or webshop platforms) are outside our control.

Our responsibility

Our liability is limited to the amount you paid for the project. We're not responsible for issues caused by changes you make after delivery, or for third-party service outages.

Legal details

These terms follow Hungarian law. If there's ever a disagreement, we'd prefer to work it out together first. Consumer complaints may also be directed to the competent conciliation body. If the dispute cannot be resolved otherwise, the Buda Central District Court or, depending on jurisdiction, the Budapest Capital Regional Court shall have exclusive jurisdiction.
